Ad Blockers

Ever feel like an ad is following you around?

That's because browsers and websites are continuously collecting data on you in order to better target Ads. This data can include location, type of device, and other accounts your logged into.

How can you protect your data and stay private online?

Use an Ad blocker!

Ad blockers filter out ads and prevent them from showing up. Not only do they prevent ads from tracking you, but they stop them from popping up and annoying you!

How do I get started?

Ad blockers exist as web browser plugins on both computers and mobile phones. Some web browsers, such as Brave, even come with in-built ad-blockers!

To get started, download one of these ad blockers for your web browser. Find one that fits your needs! We recommend:

uBlock Origin   AdBlock Plus
